We believe in real food. We have our own restaurant vegetable and herb garden where we grow our own herbs and spices. We support over 40 local independent family businesses with the ingredients we buy, and we make all of our own salad dressings, sauces, meatballs, lasagnas, soups, pizza, gnocchi, manicotti, etc. in house. We believe food should be fresh, local, homemade, delicious and served with a smile. And we have felt this way and prepared food in the same fashion for 80 years now

Lasagna House History

In 1942, Sicilian immigrant, Pete Pizzo fulfilled a lifetime dream of opening an Italian restaurant serving his family's century-old recipes. In the 1970's Pete brought his recipes and passion for food to Houston, Texas, calling it Lasagna House III.

Current owners, and local Spring family, Matt and Mary Vernon, still take great pride in serving delicious Italian fare in the same loving way that Pete did so many years ago.

Thank you so much for supporting our traditions, our staff and our small family business for the past 80 years!
